

A. W. AUNER, SONG PUBLISHER & PRINTER,
Tenth and Race Sts., Philadelphia, Pa.

RAZZLE DAZZLE

Words and Music by Willard Thompson.

Copyrighted 1888, by Willis Woodward & Co., New York.

Music of this song sent on receipt of 40 cts., in 1 or 2 ct. stamps, by
A. W. Auner, Tenth & Race Sts., Philadelphia, Pa.

Nobody knows when we're out upon a spree,
Nobody knows, nor cares a D,
Nobody knows for its underneath the rose,
So nobody knows but Eliza.

CHORUS.

Razzle, dazzle, razzle, dazzle,
How full I am, (hic)
Don't care a hang, razzle, dazzle, (hic) de dazzle,
Let's have one drink more !
We're out upon a terrible tare,
No matter how full we never will care,
For razzle, dazzle, de dazzle,
Let's have one drink more !

When morning comes and our little spree is o'er,
Every one resolves to drink no more,
For R. E. morse has us very strong and sure,
So we'll all swear off together !

Razzle, dazzle, razzle, dazzle, &c.

A. W. AUNER'S
CARD & JOB PRINTING ROOMS
Tenth and Race Sts., Philadelphia, Pa.